This Left the Market to Drift Listlessly to Its Own Devices.

EW YORK, May 26-Brokers put in a few orders for stocks early tolay and then went off to the prooklyn handleap leaving the to drift listlessly to its own deikes. No serious comment can be offered a such a market, beyond its negative There was no trading or ment of prices to indicate that any held any sentiment on values or the ook for values. But it was a fair inace that very profound and universal tainty is felt over the future to e such a total abstention from operes in securities as is now witnessed in ons in securities as is now witnessed in a market. That it is not for lack of regres is strikingly demonstrated by the southew of capital in response to togs offer of Cuban bends which were gis over-subscribed both here and in so markets where they were offered a demand for the recent Russian and sanese loan offerings as well as for w York city's NI.00, bond offering was of in the same direction, he case is the more notable in view. New York's small disposition heretoes to embark in government securities, a to the time, three or four years ago, in the value of our export trade and the balance of trade in our favor sudity expanded to such unwieldy proporties as to suffer embarrassment for form, maney markets in meeting the sudities of the cutting off of the swan gold supply coming quickly to my the situation. -Utah Strawberries Are Expected Soon.

WO considerable reductions were the result of the meeting of the Grain Dealers' association yesterday attermoon. Wheat was tumbled down from its lofty perch and is now 10 cents lower than it has been for the last two months. And alfalfa was lowered $1.50 per ten. This brings wheat down to $1.19 per bushel, and alfalfa to $10.50 per ton. These reductions, which will be greatly welcomed all round, are attributed to the fine weather that has been enjoyed up to this week, and the good crop reports that have come from all the grain and farming districts in the intermountain country. The correspondents of the Department of Agriculture have sent in accounts that the recent storms had caused considerable damage to the fruit and other crops. But later information is to the effect that these stories were exaggerated. People in these stories were exaggerated. People in the south of Utah often get a scare about this time of the year that the fruit crop is going to suffer and generally the returns at harvest time belie these feare. Tribune correspondents have sent in the latest accounts to the effect this year's fruit will be in better shape than it has ever been before, without any exception; that the abundance of water gives every guarantee of a fat year in the produce line, and that the damage and casualties are nothing more than what must be expected in the best of years.

A new arrival was seen yesterday in the vesetable markets. This was a plant called okra, halling from Texas. It is a small green vegetable not unlike the string bean, and is used for soup entirely. The price of this is $1.50 per box.

Large shipments of all kinds of produce came in yesterday, and the wholesale merchants were crowded for space. Fish, especially, was plentiful.

In this branch, mountain trout was the only novelty. The storms of a month ago prevented any shipments from being sont down from northern idaho, which territory supplies Utah with this delicacy, but on Wednesday the blockade was raised, and the shimongers were once more supplied. The price is the usual 30 cents per peund.

Rumors have been heard on the streets lately of Utah strawherties being sont to the price is the usual 30 cents per peund. the south of Utah often get a scare about
